Over the last decade, so much has changed. We can now ask "Alexa" to buy groceries, have a doorbell that talks to visitors, and even purchase a "self driving" car. As we enter the new "roaring" '20s, I am curious to see what the future entails. How much more will dentistry change? How will technology continue to impact our profession? How can we keep up with it all?!

Thankfully, the ADA has created an online platform that helps stay in touch with this ever-changing profession. From practice management to the ADA morning huddle, their website is filled with a plethora of information that is suitable for all generations of dentists.

President's Message

Looking to get your information quicker? There's an app for that! PDA has unveiled an app that is suitable for both Apple and Android phones called PDA GO. Downloading the PDA GO app is free for all members. More importantly, it will keep you in the loop about upcoming CE in the area, legislative action alerts, and much more. There are also forums and resources that you can access at the touch of a button. So go ahead and get the PDA GO app today!

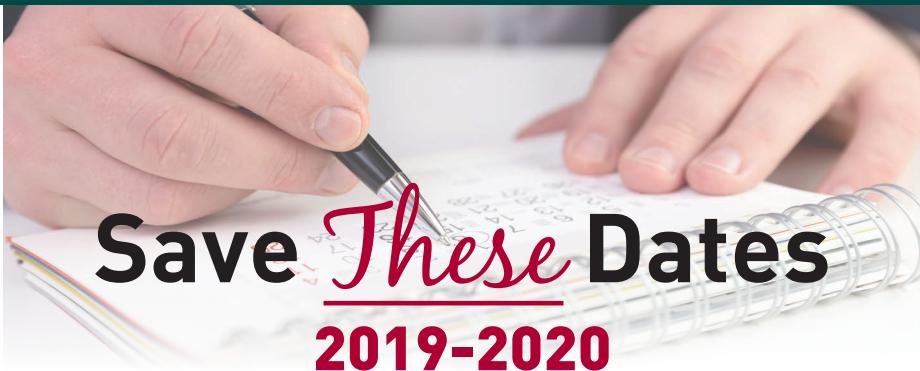

Our next general meeting will be on February 24th, 2020 at Normandy Farms in Blue Bell. The Dean from UPENN, Dr. Mark Wolff, presents "SDF (Silver Diamine Fluoride) – How it Works, What are Its Risks and Benefits, and When Do I Use It?" Haven't been to a General Meeting yet?? Use your complimentary dinner and come join us!

Wishing you all the best for 2020!!

Financial Planning Information

Financial Aid for College

What About Financial Aid for College?

Financial aid for college consists of loans, grants, scholarships, and work study. Grants and scholarships are worth searching for because they don't have to be paid back, unlike student loans, which require an ongoing financial obligation, or work study, which requires a work commitment. There are generally three sources for college grant aid; the federal government, state higher-education agencies, and colleges.

In order to be considered for any type of grant aid, you or your child should file the federal government's financial aid application, the FAFSA. In addition, private colleges typically require the CSS Profile form or their own individual aid form. The FAFSA and CSS Profile can be filled out and submitted on line (the FAFSA is free but the CSS Profile has a fee). These forms do require some time to complete, but the time spent is worth it. Not only are these forms a prerequisite to various types of grant aid, but some colleges may require them in order for students to be eligible for college merit scholarships. Keep in mind that students must reapply for financial aid every year.

U.S. GOVERNMENT GRANTS

There are two main federal grants for college; Pell Grants and Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOGs). Both are based on financial need. The Pell Grant program is Uncle Sam's largest financial aid grant program. Pell Grants are available to undergraduate students with exceptional financial need, and are the foundation of every undergraduate student's financial aid package (for those who qualify). Graduate students are not eligible. Pell Grants are administered by the federal government and awarded on the basis of college costs and a financial need. Financial need is based on factors such as family income and assets, family size, and the number of college students in the family. For the 2017-2018 award year, the maximum Pell Grant is $5,920.'

The FSEOG is the federal government's second-largest program. An FSEOG is available to undergraduate students who demonstrate the greatest financial need. (i.e., those students with the lowest expected family contributions). Priority is given to Pell Grant recipients. The FSEOG is a campus-based program, which means that the financial aid office at each college administers it. Every college receives a certain amount of FSEOG funding from the federal government each year, and when the funds are awarded, there are no more until the following year. So even though a student might be eligible for an FSEOG based on his or her financial need, the funds may have already been expended for that year. The maximum FSEOG award is $4,000 per academic year, and awards can range from $100 to $4,000.

STATE GRANTS

Many states offer grant programs as well. Each state's grant program is different, many give special preference to state residents planning to attend an in-state school. For more information, contact your state's higher-education agency.

COLLEGE GRANTS

Finally, many colleges offer specialized grant programs. This is particularly true of older schools with many alumni and large endowments. These grants are usually based on financial need or scholastic ability. Consult your college financial aid office for more details. Source: 1) U.S. Department of Education, 2017

Seminar #4, Friday, April 3, 2020

Christina M. LaJoie – Current Concepts of Sleep Disordered Breathing

Level: For Entire Team

ABOUT THIS COURSE:

Sleep disordered breathing is one of the hottest topics in dentistry today, and oral appliances used to treat sleep disordered breathing have evolved significantly over the past 25 years. From early boil and bites, to single position, to titratable appliances; including the Telescopic Sleep Herbst® and the Klearway™, to the D-SAD™ and Medley appliances. The evolution towards adjustability has allowed doctors to start therapy with their patients in a more comfortable position and gradually move to an optimal therapeutic position. Patient comfort is a vital element of appliance therapy as comfort leads to improved patient compliance.

However, achieving proper bite registration is critical to successful sleep appliance therapy. A hands-on bite registration demonstration using the George Gauge™ will be conducted and information on how to select the right appliance to address your patient's unique dental conditions will be presented. The introduction of new technology for home monitoring, such as the Nonin WristOx2® Pulse Oximeter and the MediByte® Lite, has allowed doctors to evaluate appliance effectiveness quantitatively and share data more effectively with physicians co-managing the case. A discussion of home monitors and their application will conclude the course.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

- Understand the evolution of oral appliances for sleep disordered breathing
- Learn hands-on techniques for bite registration using the George Gauge™

- Learn how to select the right appliance to address your patient's dental conditions
- Understand how to use home monitoring for effective therapy and co-management of patients

Three dental providers will share their expertise on dental sealants with best practices.

The presenters include Dr. Irene Hilton, who has a 22-year history of planning and implementing long-term county department of public health school-based sealant programs and is an expert on school-based programs operated by federally qualified health centers; Dr. Domenic M. Caluori, a dentist with over 30 years
